Challenges

In many regional,rural and remote regions the higher ATAR courses don't attract enough student to be able to run the course, or if they can sometimes the class numbers are low that there isn't the competition between students

Improving access – enrolments, clusters, distance education and boarding

I think the distance is a big disadvantage of regional, rural and remote students continuing to University. The cost of boarding/living in the city is far beyond the means of many families. their children will be disadvantaged as they simply can't afford it
