

As a parent of two gifted children, I would like all teachers to receive extensive education on gifted and talented students.